

Valentin Wagner, A Traveling Party on Board an “Ulmer Schachtel” (1631)

Abstract

This ink drawing depicts a type of boat known as an “Ulmer Schachtel,” i.e. a barge used in shipping on the Danube river. It was used to transport all sorts of goods but also many different people. Traveling parties like the one shown here - soldiers, delinquents, and the so-called Danube Swabians - all traveled, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, up and down the Danube on an “Ulmer Schachtel.”

Source

Source: Valentin Wagner, Travel sketchbook: The traveling party of Herrn V. Wagner travels in an “Ulmer Schachtel” on the Danube from Regensburg to Vienna [“Reiseskizzenbuch: Die Reisegesellschaft des Herrn V. Wagner fährt in einer Ulmer Schachtel auf der Donau von Regensburg nach Wien.”] Drawing 1631.

Inventarnummer 3383v. Albertina Online:

[http://sammlungenonline.albertina.at/?query=Inventarnummer=\[3383v\]&showtype=record](http://sammlungenonline.albertina.at/?query=Inventarnummer=[3383v]&showtype=record)

Recommended Citation: Valentin Wagner, A Traveling Party on Board an “Ulmer Schachtel” (1631), published in: German History Intersections, <<https://germanhistory-intersections.org/en/migration/ghis:image-155>> [May 03, 2024].